Simple tips for cleaning your home after a fire

Wash the room from the top down (i.e., start with the ceiling, then the walls, then the furniture, then the floor).

If soot or dust is floating in the air, wear a dust mask. If there is no soot/dust in the air, a dust mask may not be necessary.

Wash every surface that soot may have landed on.

Ceiling:
- If the ceiling is smooth, wipe it down with damp rags. Rinse the rags frequently.
- If the ceiling is “popcorn” stucco, sweep it with a broom. Then wipe it with slightly damp rags. (Note: bits of white ceiling “popcorn” may fall down when you sweep. This is ok. You can clean them up last when you clean the floor).

Walls:
- Use Fantastic spray cleaner (“Fantastic Original” NOT “Fantastic with bleach”) or Simple Green spray cleaner. Wipe walls down with a damp rag. Rinse the rag frequently.

Upholstered Furniture (i.e., sofa):
- Vacuum lightly (don’t press the soot into the fabric) and then gently wipe with a damp cloth.

OR,
- Rent a carpet cleaning machine and use it on the sofa; it will come with an “upholstery device”.

Hard Surfaces (i.e., table, shelf, counter):
- Use Fantastic spray cleaner (“Fantastic Original” NOT “Fantastic with bleach”) or Simple Green spray cleaner. Wipe surface with a damp rag. Rinse the rag frequently.

Smell of Smoke:
- If, after cleaning, the smell of smoke is still there, Febreeze air freshener may help. It is available at most stores.

Need help cleaning your home?
- Restoration companies specialize in cleaning homes and buildings after fires, floods and other emergencies. They know how to deal with soot on all surfaces after a fire, and have specialized equipment and trained staff to help restore your home after a fire. Check the yellow pages under “Fire and Water Damage Restoration”.
